

Homework 9 Model-Changes

I had to change R-Command so that it did not print out the First/Second building and instead returned everything in a variable. Minor change since they always need to be printed anyway, but a change nonetheless.

I also added a getter to my ID_to_Coordinate map. I needed to do this because while I use it natively to get the angles, I needed the exact coordinates to draw my line, and there was no need for a getter previously. Those were the only changes.
